Maximilian Still Alive-His Trial to be Postponed until the Arrival of an American Minister-General Mejla Puts Escobedo's Gratitude to the Test-The Liberal Commander Skulks-Corona's Cavalry Sent After Lozada.

SAN LUIS POTOSI, June 3, via New Orleans, June 19.—Maximilian's trial was to have been resumed to-morrow, but his counsel not having arrived from the capital, the case was again postponed, General Miramon's relations, who are in this city, have secured counsel on his behalf General Mejis, on being asked whom ne would name to conduct his defense, replied that he would choose General Escobedo, whose life he had once saved when Marquez had him a prisoner and wanted to shoot him. General Esco-bedo, however, refused to act.

The probabilities grow greater that the trial will be postponed on one pretext or another this after the fall of Mexico City and of Vera Cruz, and till after the arrival of the American Minister. Meanwhile, to aliay the popular excitement and satisfy the army, which has grown clamorous for Maximilian's blood, circumstantial accounts of his execution are being constantly described. constantly circulated. Bogus proclamations, purporting to be signed by him, are issued here, in the very scattof government, and passed off as genuine, and every device is resorted to in order to bring the fallen Emperor into con-

Fifty of the leading ladies of San Luis Potosi have had an interview with Juarcz, to ask Maximilian's life. The President replied that the matter had not yet come before him for disposition. When it should, he said, he would bear in mind their request. The growing insubordination of the military chieftains to the central government causes uneasiness here. Peserters, forming into bands of robbers, render the roads around San Luis Potosi very pusafe.

Potosi very unsafe.

From the City of Mexico we have the news that General Marquez has put the wife of Minister Iglesias—one of President Juarez's Cabinet—and the wife of the Liberal Governor of the State, Sepor Bez, in prison, and threatens to shoot them, with some fifty other Liberal families, whom he holds under arrest, unless Maximilian is given up. Marquez may have done this to save his own lite; he is not the man to litt a little finger in behalf of any one else.

(A correspondent in the City of Mexico has already announced that Mrs. Baz was exchanged for a son of General O'Horan.—ED.)

Up to the date of June 3 the slegge of the capital changed for a son of General O'Horan.—ED.)

Up to the date of June 3 the slegge of the capital still progressed. General Diaz was aiming at reducing the capital in the same manner as Querctaro had been taken.

Nearly all of Escobedo's army, and the whole of Corona's—with the exception of three thousand cavairy sent to Jalisco to bring General Legal to terms. Lozada to terms—have relatoreed General Diaz, who could any day carry the capital by assault if he chose.

THE DIVINITY SCHOOL OF THE PROTESTANT EPISCOPAL CHURCH OF WEST PHILADELPHIA.

—This morning graduates of the Divinity School, West Philadelphia, received their diplomes at the Church of the Holy Trinity.

At 10 o'clock the graduates of the Divinity School of the Protestant Episcopal Church of West Philadelphia entered the church, followed by bishops Steveos, of Pennsylvania, and Lee, of Delaware. The Rev. Dr. w atson, of the Church of the Atonement, and Rev. D. Otis Kellogs, of Rhode Island, opened the services by reading the lessons of the day. Bishop Stevens gave out the 106th Psalm.

C. Potter, D. D., of Trinity Church, Boston, and son of the late Bisho: Potter, of this Diocese delivered the sermon, of which the following is an abstract:—

The text will be found in the 11th chapter of the Book of Acts, 24th verse—"A good man, and full of the Holy Ghost and of failt."

This was spoken of Barbaoas on the occasion of his visit to the church at Anticch. How much more significant it becomes when he added, "and by such men many were added to the church of God." There was a day, and not far remote, when the church and the ministry was considered the bighest authority known, and commanded the greatest reverence and respect. The time when the village pastor was the one man, and when all looked to him for advice has passed away, and will, perhaps, never return.

The minister must devote himself to careful study, if but to save himself from contempt, thus making the ministry of God an arradous though pleasant duly. The one pre-eminent trait of a minister is to be real, to feel the duty he has taken upon himself. He must not trust to his robes, but, in the words of the text, be filled with the Holy Ghost. He must be fearless in the service of God, and preach to one or one hundred here, there, or wherever he may be called, to show the morey and goodness of God.

The danger to the ministry is, that the preacher will forget himself in the robes of the functionary. Men are not to be called to God by a priestly bearing, but by a feeling of humanity. The minister of God must have sympethy. He should be above his people, Closely allied to sympathy is unselfabness, and the ministry demands of all who enter it to lose sight of self. More closely than we dream of the world watches our petity actions. As by the word of God the world was created, so now by His word must it be redeemed. The speaker then addressed the candidates for ministorial honors, and stated the difficulties they have to overcome, and urged them on in the strength of the prants of a greatest for many and stated the difficulties they have to ove other than a bonded warehouse. The parties are all residents of the centre of the State.

HEARING BEFORE U. S. COMMISSIONER SAB-GEANT.—Benjamin Breitigan, Chas. W. Kreiter, Isaac F. Bomberger, and William L. Reed were up before the above Commissioner on the up before the above Commissioner on the charge of removing spirits from a distillery to other than a bonded warehouse. The parties are all residents of the centre of the State.

James B. Henderson sworn—I am a Revenue Inspector; reside at Middletown, Dauphin county; I know Benjamin Breitigan, C. W. Kreiter, Isaac F. Bomberger, and William I. Reed; Romberger and Reed are agents of the Columbia Radiroad, at Littiz, the others are distiliers; Breitigan lives one and a quarter miles from Pensavilie; Kreiter at Littiz; I had a conversation with Kreiter in reference to ship ment of spirits; on the 2th of May I heard that a car load of whisky, manifested as mait was chipped from Littiz tation to Landsville; it was shipped on the 6th; the car was consigned from Littiz to Landsville, and from Landsville to Mary-ville; I went to Marysville and could get no information; at Littiz asked Mr. Bomberger about that load of whisky which was mailtested mait; Bomberger said he was told it was whisky, and received orders from the general ficight agent to change his books so as to show it was whisky, instead of mait. He told me they handed some bags and barrels to and from the car, and gave me the way hills (way bills produced); Bomberger banded me these when I asked him about it, The load was in a Pennsylvania Radirond car, and shipped as rye. I then went to Harrisburg, after it at car load of whisky again; went to a liquor store, Rocern Hatris, and found so bols, whisky on the books.

and shipped as rye. I then went to Harrisburg, after it at carload of whisky again; went to a liquor store, Robern Harris, and found so bils, whisky on the books.

Bomberger denied shipping it as a fraud; I asked M., Kreiter afterwards if he shipped whisky to Harrisburg as mals; this was on the left day of June, a reliter and, "You can well shut that thing up if you want to do it," he did not acknowledge that it was his whisky; this was all about the Kreiter affair. I went to Breitigan's distil ery on the attendon of the light of June; went through late the mill connected with it; met Breitigan who seemed much frightened; laid his hand on my shoulder, saying. "My God, I hope you did not selectant whisky, yeaterday:" did not know he had shipped any whisky on the lith until he told me so; he said he was informed by his son in the morning that I had select the whisky; he said "I always liked your nee, and as we sail like money. If you do not tell Mr. Wiley I will give you thoo a month and the best part of the shipment" (twenty-three barreis); I told him that would have to see the sign was right a Litiz, or where he snipped the whisky from; I done this to get the information from him; he lold me Mr. Bomberger was right, and would manifest that car load of whisky as grain; Bomberger was not present; I asked Breitigan about the whisky he shipped to Philadelphia; he said, "Ishipped eight barreis;" I told him heshipped six een, eight on the lith and elgit on the 2th May; he denied it; I told him I knew it; he said there was no account of that whisky; it was emptled and gone, and no one would know anything about it. Before I left, Mr. Breitigan told me to come in the mill, and he would give me ac check for $500. I told him to keep the check, I would call for it when I wanted it. I then took the nightrain, and seized the twenty-three barrels of whisky at Harrisburg, on the Lebanon Valley Rallroad, which was manifested grain.

A. N. Cassel sworn—I know there has been twenty-three barrels whisky selzed lately; I own the ca ence to the removal of the barrela.

District Attorney Valentine asked for the binding over of Breitingan, Kreiter, and Homberger.

Mr. Bomberger was held in $1000 ball and Kreiter and Breitinger in $2000 each.

CORONER'S INVESTIGATION INTO THE CAUSE OF THE LATE HOMICIDE.—At 1 o'clock this after-noon the Coroner's inquest into the cause or the murder of Edward C. Burton, who was the murder of Edward C. Burton, who was found brutally beaten in Mr. Curby's shop on Tuesday morning last, was held.

the murder of Edward C. Burton, who was found brutally beaten in Mr. Carby's shop on Tuesday morning last, was held.

The prisoner, Patrick Quino, was present, and watched the testimony with great saxiely. The following evidence was stinded:—

Bridget McCallisters aworn—Resides at No. 503 Penn street; was standing outside my door with my little gri; a little boy came up to me and said that there was a man dying or snoring in the back of the short I left the girl and went in sudsaid "My God, the man is murdered;" I celled for assistance, and tried to see who the man was; I saw an old man coming and I told him I would go for a watchman; I saked the old man if he knew who did it, and he shook his head; I saw no person come out of that place, but I heard that two men had cone out a little before: It was ten minutes past II when I went into the shook I heard of no suspicions. Mr. Bestamin Guby sworn—Residence No. 2038 Mount Vernon street; I left my shop about half past of olock the morning of fureday: Pat. Quinn was in company with Ed. Burton: I stepped forward and shook hands with quinna and saked him what he was doing deva here: he formised something. Chils is rat. Quinn, pointing to prisoner: I told Ed. Burton: was going up town; I saked Pat if he would go with me: he said "No." I heard Pat say that he would have no objection, to a remark by Kurton; I stepped forward in the shop towards the Penn street door, Quinn hunder found and leaped over the banch, and Burton was sawing staves on it: I turned to quinn whose he immed over the bench, and he assed, "Whether I had sold the mare?" I told him I had not: I saked him if he knew who would have say I said touid sold it for that, to whether in law about her, and it leads of the bench, and said crooked him the head of the first point of the said that he was in liquor: I have head of the person being in there are not in the said that he was in liquor. I have head of the person being in there are not in the said that he was in liquor. I have head of the person being in th plls and came back to the shop to lay down, as he seid a n an tanding by said that he should put his contover his shoulder, all this was done, there was only a partition between our house and the shop: I heard the noise when the cooper was struck; this was after I went into the house Guinnest outside the shop door, I never saw hite atternards: I heard nothing that would indicate who the assailant was.

The mas Woodward sworn—Residence the same as above; about half-past 9 I was sitting on the cutside with the former wilness; when Quigley went in Quant was sitting before the door, soon after the latter left, I saw Quinn afterwards coming across; both stopped near a tree above the cooper-anop; saw he deceased come out, said he felt sick, and asked if there were any pills sold across the road.

After some further testimony, the case was held over.

HEARINGS AT THE CENTRAL STATION .- Be-HEARINGS AT THE CENTRAL STATION.—Before Alderman Beitler, at 2 o'clock to-day, Margaret Barker, residing between Seventh and Eighth streets, and below the Canal, was charged with throwing a lighted coal-oil lamb at Cecelia Selby, residing next door to her. It struck her on the back of the head. The oil was scattered over the floor, and set fire to a bed quilt and the dress of a daughter of Mrs. Selby.

The defendant gave the name of Margaret Barker. Her right name is Margaret Pierce: Barker, who was recently convicted of murder in the second degree, and whom the woman. Barker, who was recently convicted of murder in the second degree, and whom the woman claims as a husband, made an affidavit that she was not his lawful wife, but that he paid her husband $10 for her and two children. She was held in $800 ball for her appearance at Court. Charles Hill was charged with going to houses, engaging board, and on being shown a room, backed up everything, and then skeddadled. He was held in $2000 ball for a further hearing to-morrow at 2 o'clock.

Trial of John H. Surratt.

Washington, June 20,—Mr. Bradley said he had been misunderstood: he intended to convey the idea that the rule was that the whole subject was within the sound discretion of the Court. The defence therefore proposed to lay a foundation for a case upon which the Court could rule.

Mr. Carrington repeated he had no objection to the recall of the winesses if they were here, but he did not wish to be compelled to keep witnesses here.

Mr. Merrick asked if they would recall Susan Mabony.

ony. Mr. Carrington said she was in the city and could Mr. Carrington said she was in the city and could be recalled at any time.

Mr. Merrick said that case was then out of the way, and it only remained as to the recall of Blion and Hobart, and he therefore submitted a motion to have them recalled, and he thought the motion would be granted when he stated what he expected to prove. The defense had received information which would enable them to show that in April, 1865, when the facts were fresh in his memory, Mr. Hobart stated that the parties to whom he referred in his testimony, as having got on the train at Essex Junction, got on that train on Friday, the 21st or April, and not on Tuesday, April is. These dates are very material. That Hobart had made the statement was brought to the knowledge of the defense after the examination had closed. That this was so he would read from the statement of Hobart, as made to a Government official.

Mr. Merrick took up a book and was shout to read from it when Mr. Pierrepont interrupted, and wanted to know to what efficial this evidence had been given.

Mr. Merrick—An official this evidence had been Mr. Baker. Mr. Pierrepont asked if the back being book; if so, he had sked if the Mr. Merrick—An official who was a deputy of General L. C. Baker.
Mr. Plerrepont asked if the book was Baker's book; if so, he had never seen it or the papers.
Mr. Merrick said it was in Baker's book, and if Mr. Pierrepont had never seen the prosecution in this case, the Government had neen it and know all about it. The paper referred to was a letter to General L. C. Baker.
Mr. Pierrepont wanted to know if Bakar's book and its contents could be put in evidence. He certainly case, the Government had seen it and know all about it. The paper referred to was a letter to Goneral L. C. Baker.

Mr. Pierrepont wanted to know if Baker's book and its contents could be put in evidence. He certainly objected to it.

Mr. Bradley objected to these incessant interruptions, and he asked that the rule be strictly enforced. Mr. Pierrepont said he would state his objection. Mr. Bradley called him to order, and domanded that Mr. Merrick should be allowed to proceed.

Mr. Pierrepont said he had submitted his objection, and asked the Court to rule upon it. He objected to the reading of Baker's book.

The Court said he should certainly sustain an objection to reading Baker's book or any other book except a law book. Everybody knew that Baker's book was not one of law, and it was generally dentited whether it was one of fact.

Mr. Merrick said he did not propose to read from Baker's book. Or any other book. He simply proposed to read a at tenent of what he proposed to prove it he witness Hobart was called. He proposed to show that before April 27, 185, when the facts were freeh in his memory. Hobart stated that he had carried the men described yesterday, April 13, and that his statement on that occasion corresponded exactly with his evidence of yesterday, except as to the time when the men were enried. At 10 Binu, the delense proposed to prove that he made a statement before April 27 corresponding with that made yesterday, except as to the date when his men came to the depot at Burlington. They would show that he positively fixed has the rom the fact of his brother acy might, and that it was on Friday morning the wilness was put on the train. It was the object of the positively fixed has term the fact of his brother acy might, and that it was on Friday morning the wilness was put on the frain. It was the object of the content of the men described by Mr. Blinn were put on the train of his way to Montreal, as against the defense ruprosed through Vermont to the train on Friday morning the wilness was privat

Carrington objected to the reading, and said it should not be placed in evidence unless first submitted to the Court.

Mr. Merrick said he did not nurpose to offer it in svidence. He simply read it as the basis of his application to recall him.

Judge Fisher said the paper must not be read in the hearing of the jury.

Mr. Pierrepont said that when the motion was first made by counsel for the defense, and objected to by the District Attorney, he (Mr. Pierrepont) suggested that certain witnesses be allowed to be recalled, he did not know at the time that these witnesses had gone home, but Mr. Wilson, the Assistant Atlorney, had advised the Court that some of them had departed for their homes.

Susan Jacksom, however, was in this city, and the counsel for the prosecution consented that she oe recalled. Could anything be more reasonable and fair? Now he was met with some embarrassment, because he had repracedly been told by the learned counsel that the practice was different here from what it was where he had practised. He would ask the Court whether, on a motion to recall witnesses in order to continue the cross-examination, it was the practice to argue questions of fact, and sum up and tell what they expected to prove.

This motion was to compet the recall of witnesses, Counsel for the prosecution were willing to extend all the courtesy in their power. They would make no objections to the recall of any of the witnesses now in the city, and the putting of them upon the stand, with all the advantages of cross examination within the proper limits; but they do protest against their being compelled to bring back here those who have left the city. They should not be brought back, unless ordered to do so by the Court; neither justice or law required such a proceeding.

Mr. Carrington—Is not the application somewhat such a proceeding.

Mr. Carrington—Is not the application somewhat unprecedented? A witness has been fully examined. After the examination in chief, and the cross-examination have been completed—

The Court, interrupting Mr. Carrington—I don't want to hear you turther. No motion ought to be made unless founded on an adidavit which the Court can insuch.

made unless founded on an affidavit which the Courtcan inspect.

Mr. Bradley—It will be put in shape.

The Court—It is out of order for gentlemen to make arguments to the jury about the facts they are able to prove. The proper mode is to support the motion by an affidavit.

Mr. Merrick remarked that he had not proposed to avaue the case, but if the motion was founded on an affidavit, he would be compelled to present his reasons why the motion should be granted.

Mr. Bradk y to Mr. Pierrepout—You did not suggest that the motion should be supported by affidavit.

William E. Cleaver, livery stable keeper, testified

[SPECIAL DESPATCHES TO EVENING TELEGRAPH.] WASHINGTON, June 20.

Death of Commissioner Newton. Commissioner Newton died of chronic disease of the blader. The operation performed resulted in inflammatory fever. His remains will be taken to Philadelphia for interment, leaving here by the afternoon train to-morrow. A meeting of Pennsylvanians will be held to-night at the Pennsylvania State Agency, to make arrangements for the funeral.

The Surratt Trial.

The prosecution is weaving a perfect net of testimony about Surratt, and his counsel do not seem to have the same confidence in clearing him they exhibited at the outset. The defense have counted much upon breaking down the testimony of Wetchmann, but it is rumored today that the Government will not put him upon the stand. The prosecution has not well brought. the stand. The proseention has not yet brought forward the most important witnesses, St. Marie and others, but is laying the foundation for introducing their testimony.

The Strike.

The strike of the bricklayes, at the Treasury extension still continues. The strikers are gathered on the sidewalk opposite the work in force, but maintain good order. They are striking for eight hours for the day's work on Saturday, instead of ten as at present.

The Superintendent of the work has offered them an increase of a dollar a day on their wages instead, but they refuse to accept. A number of colored bricklayers applied to-day for work, but after consultation it was decided not to employ them, as if they were put to work, all the workmen engaged upon other branches would strike, and it would be impossible to supply the places of the stone-cutters with colored workmen. One white bricklayer and two apprentices are at work to-day, but the strikers have made up a purse to induce the man working to leave the city. The Strike.

From Wilmington, Del.

Wilmington, Del., June 20.—The National Division of the Sons of Temperance met in this city yesterday afternoon. Delegates were present from all the States but one, and from the Canadas, Nova Scotia, New Brunswick, and Prince Edward's Island.

The reports of officers, including the Most Worthy Patriarch and Most Worthy Scribe, were received. The Committee on Credentials reported, and other preliminary business was transacted.

reported, and other preliminary business was transacted.

In the evening a grand welcome meeting was held in Institute Hall, where William Silver, G. W. P. of Delaware, made the welcoming address. He was responded to by John H. Stearns, M. W. P. of the National Division, who was followed by O. D. Wetmore, of New Brunswick, William G. McDonough, Edward Carswell, of Canada East, and others.

The meeting adjourned about 10 o'clock to another hall, where a grand collation had been provided by the lady friends of the Order. The report of the officers show a very encouraging condition of the Order. A thorough reorganization has been effected throughout the South, excepting Florida, Alabama, and Mississippi. The Most Worthy Patriarch advocates carrying temperance into politics, and says the question of voting against a drunkard is not a matter of political opinion, but of moral right and duty. He calls especial attention to the centest between prohibitory and license laws in Massachusetts and Maine.

The session convened at 10 o'clock to-day, and will probably continue for several days.

Amongst questions to be discussed will probably be whether colored men shall be admitted as members of the Order, the particular importance of the issue being derived from the great temperance feeling among the Southern freedmen.

The Union Pacific Railroad. NEW YORK, June 20 .- A St. Louis despatch of New York, June 20.—A St. Louis despatch of yesterday, stating that work would have to be abandoned on the Union Pacific Railroad unless more protection was furnished against the Indians, conveys altogether an erroneous impression. Sidney Dillon, who has charge of the construction department of the road, left Omaha on Monday, the 17th, and is new in this city, and informs the Company that the work on the centire line west from Omaha has not been interrupted for an hour, and the track continues. rrupted for an hour, and the track continues terrupted for an hour, and the track continues to be laid at the rate of two miles per day.

The Indians have caused some annoyance to surveying parties and the cutters in the Rocky Mountains; but General Sherman promises ample protection, and there is not the slightest probability of any interruption in the work.
